PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Over the last year, I worked at a fast growing startup to launch multiple features that directly impact customers. Having started to learn how to code 18 months ago, I'm on a fast growing learning journey to become a world-class developer. I've participated in coding bootcamps in Portugal and in Sydney, have gone through multiple online courses, built my own personal projects and have real world experience through working at a startup. I've learned many frameworks, improved my design architecture, and deployed code to production. In my personal projects, I've focused on building projects where I could learn more about API's, HTML, CSS, Javascript and React.
